

Week 2 — Design Studio

"A résumé screening system rejects a qualified candidate. Redesign the system so that outcome is survivable."

The category is real. Amazon built a résumé screener in the mid-2010s and scrapped it after discovering it had learned to penalize résumés containing the word "women's." Under the EU AI Act, employment screening is high-risk — so human oversight, logging, and the ability to contest a decision are requirements, not preferences.

Format. Build in pairs — one page, argue, merge. Then we review as a group. The answers document is handed out after.

Use tonight's vocabulary. Requirements as rate × slice × remainder × owner. The mistake catalog. Mitigations with their failure modes. Recourse.

A rule for this one. You may not answer with "make the model more accurate." The model will be wrong at some rate, forever. Redesign for the remainder.
